

Tasting Note: Mangels Vineyards Verdelho

Vintage: 2021

Appearance: Mangels Vineyards Verdelho showcases a bright and vibrant golden straw color, reflecting its youthful nature. The wine glistens in the glass, hinting at the luscious flavors to come.

Nose: Upon swirling the glass, enticing aromas of tropical fruits dance to the forefront. Notes of ripe pineapple, juicy mango, and succulent passionfruit fill the air, creating an alluring and exotic bouquet. The fragrance is further complemented by delicate hints of citrus blossom and a touch of fresh herbs, adding depth and complexity.

Palate: On the palate, Mangels Vineyards Verdelho delivers a tantalizing experience. The initial sip reveals a burst of ripe tropical fruit flavors, with juicy pineapple and mango taking center stage. These flavors are beautifully balanced by zesty citrus notes, such as tangy grapefruit and a hint of lime zest, adding a refreshing and invigorating touch. The wine boasts a medium-bodied structure, with a silky texture that glides effortlessly across the palate.

Mid-palate, subtle floral undertones emerge, intermingling with the vibrant fruit flavors. There is a lovely interplay of sweetness and acidity, creating a harmonious and well-rounded profile. The wine finishes with a lively and lingering note, leaving a mouthwatering impression that beckons for another sip.

Food Pairing: Mangels Vineyards Verdelho pairs wonderfully with a range of dishes. Its vibrant tropical fruit flavors and lively acidity make it an ideal companion for seafood, particularly grilled shrimp, ceviche, or pan-seared scallops. It also complements lighter chicken or pork dishes with fruity or citrus-based sauces. For a delightful contrast, try pairing it with spicy Thai or Vietnamese cuisine, where the wine's refreshing qualities can help balance the heat.

Overall, Mangels Vineyards Verdelho is a delightful white wine that captures the essence of tropical paradise. Its luscious fruit flavors, lively acidity, and well-balanced structure make it a perfect choice for those seeking a refreshing and enjoyable wine experience.
